

Why is the Workplace Assessment Important to Me as an Employee?

It is important that you help answer the APV, in order to highlight areas that need to be worked on when working to improve exactly your working environment.

The APV is a tool that helps us focus on proactively preventing e.g. sick leave and accidents at work, as well as work to increase well-being and job satisfaction in general at the workplace.

Without your help, we cannot focus our effort correctly to improve our workplace.
